- Hi all,

- Many of you undoubtedly received this photo montage from our very own Scrabble to help spread the word about Keystone Kennel's practices. I thought I would post it here:

- Once again, thank God I have tissues by my computer..I just don't know how to express myself for the emotions that I am feeling.

I want to thank Rita for all of her hard work and endeavors to bring this atrocity to light and rescue all the babies that have been tortured by this very evil person.....

Rita, you are to be commended!!!

Luv,

- How gut-wrenching. My heart hurts for each and everyone of those babies. I see MANY nameless faces that are wanting so much to be loved and played with. Imagine the personalities just waiting to burst out of their souls! I personally would LOVE to knock patti's one last rotting tooth out of her dirty mouth.

- Thanks Rita for putting this together and to Cleo for allowing it on the Blog, it allows new members to see what suffering is out there that they may not be aware of.
- I was looking at the crates with 5 adult dachsies in them and they were 't anywhere near the size I bought a couple of months ago for Rhuari on his own and I think 2 is all I'd put in there at any one time and certainly only for a short time not 24/7.
- I will show this to my Mum when she comes round as I have been telling her things but she hasn't seen all the pics.
- Keep up the good work

Angel to all of those babies for trying to save their precious lives. Thanks for all of your hard work!

- Rita I don't know what to say. I'm at work and I have closed my office door until I can get my emotions back under control. I will never understand human cruelty, especially when it happens to children or animals who are too young or have no way to fight back. Those faces staring out of the cramped, tiny cages just tear my heart out. Thank you for all you are doing, you are an angel.

- Tell the truth...you all know this was their temporary set up for 12 hours while we set up their 2000 square foot enclosure. Nice try, but all you have is this, you are just trying to make us look bad. Why can't you tell the truth? Why won't you show all the pictures after they were all moved and set up? I bet you will remove this post just to hide the truth too. Patti @ Keystone Kennel

October 18, 2006 @ 9:45 am

- Dear Cleo...
- Please don't remove the comments...or the video....I feel it is good that Patti responded with admission that these are indeed photos of her dogs and Kennel. It was made very clear to me by the folks that took these photos, that this was not a 12 hour ordeal...the people that took the photos had been watching for days.

- Update: what I do know for sure is that there is still an open investigation with the Dept of AG and there is still a "stop sale" in place for Keystone. Dept of AG has kept me posted as this is public information. The only thing they cannot do for now is send out any written documentation during investigations.
- I can't help but wonder what is the current condition of these dogs and puppies.
- If we need to move this over to the forums, that's fine with me.

• Comment by cleo:

- While I reserve the right to remove any post for any reason, I generally only remove individual posts if they violate the Terms of Service for such things including harassment, abusive language, personal attacks, foul language, etc. So, Patti's post is fine from that standpoint.
- However, because this person is no longer a welcome member of the site, I really should remove any post. But given the topic and my belief that everyone deserves a rebuttal, I will leave it.
- I posted this here because it is a video montage and this is where these go, regardless of content. Any protracted discussion again, goes into the forums.

- Those pool little faces staring out of those tiny crates. That is what I always imagined a puppy mill would look like and there it is. My heart is breaking for all those pool lost souls who don't have anyone to love them or play with them. I am sobbing at the torture these poor furbabies are going through. If only I could I would help steal all of them and get them loving homes where they would be more than baby machines kept in tiny cramped cages with no one to love them and play with them. I appreciate my babies even more now and am going to give them a treat just because I am glad they are with me and they deserve it.

We have a crate that we leave Josie in when she's sick, healing, or was potty training - and I can't believe putting 4 other dogs in there. Unbelievable. I hope all the dogs are taken somewhere where they will get proper care and loving homes.

- For all of you smart people out there, stop and think about it. If we truly kept our dogs in cages or were a puppy mill...WOULDN'T SOME AUTHORITY HAVE TAKEN THESE DOGS? Yes, they would! But we have not done anything wrong. Are you all saying that all the different agencies are unable to do their job or are you saying that they are corrupt? OR MAYBE THERE ISN'T A CASE HERE! Those pictures were taken while we had the dog contained in order to set up their 2000 square foot enclosure...if you do the math you know that it not only take a little while to set something that BIG up, but why would we have them in cages if we have such a large enclosure? Rita, which person would that be who told you your info...the neighbors who abandoned their 2 dogs (one of which you rescued) or the landlord who evicted us due to failure of her sexual advances towards my husband? Yea, those sound real trustworthy contacts!
- All the agencies can confirm my statements that our dogs do not live in cages and that we DO have large enclosures for them at all times...do your homework. I have pictures of wherre they lived before we moved and after the were settled. Cleo and Rita, you two don't even fight fair, you don't tell the whole story or even the truth.

- Patti, go ahead with your threats... no judge in his right mind would read this forum, and all the posts, and believe that anyone would really go and steal your dogs. There are a lot of things in life that are not right, and keeping dogs in those conditions is one of them... another is stealing. We all wish we could change the world and some of the conditions in it. Unfortunately there are laws that prevent that from happening. Somehow the laws have turned more towards protecting the guilty instead of the innocent. This goes not only for animals but children as well. Any one in their right mind can read and research all the information on the subject of "Keystone Kennel" and see the truth, and the true meaning behind those comments.

- I've seen posts where their 2000 ft. location was a temp place? The pictures on the site are TEMP places correct? Show barns? Where are the dogs now? A friends barn?? Take TODAY or TOMORROWS (whichever is easier) Newspaper....stand there holding th paper and take a picture of you holding the paper in hands NEXT to where the dogs are right now???? This proves the date of the picture and the conditions of your puppy mill as of that DATE!! Can you do that for us??? I HIGHLY doubt it! Lets see her make excuses about this one!

- As Rita has said time and time again...they are a puppy mill, they are under investigation, the dogs are abused, blah, blah, blah...SO WHY HASEN'T THERE BEEN SOMETHING DONE! I WILL TELL YOU WHY...BECAUSE IT ISN'T SO!
- I am simply documenting statements with authorities as advised, so that if there ever was anyone so bold as to follow through with their threats.
- Seizing/Rescuing of dogs is up to the proper authorities, and obviously the people who are ABLE to seize or rescue dogs have not found reason to do so...and just "anyone" taking dogs without authority or charges is in fact STEALING! Which is a crime here in Georgia. DUH!

- First of all, 3 different people said STEAL, not rescue, but steal. This means that they are advocating a crime and expressing their desire/intentions to commit the crime. But if you would like to talk in euphemisms ok. Anyone attempting to "rescue" one of these dogs will be aided in "shuffling off this mortal coil".
- Secondly, RdWgnWeiners, you personally expressed the desire to commit assault and battery. This is the type of comment one would expect from a person with a room temperature I.Q.
- Thirdly, I find it a sad but typical behavior of small minded individuals such as yourselves to write such comments. I would expect that if a meeting were to occur you would not have the intestinal fortitude to say such a thing in person. And, judging from Rita's spying and sending in a counterfeit customer I expect you are all just a bunch of cowards who if given the opportunity for a face to face debate would refuse, for fear that your limited intellect and poor social skills would be made apparent to the world. I blame your mothers for allowing you to grow up and be such scandalous gossips, and I just pray that God has seen fit to render your children sterile so that your mouth-breathing, lazy-eyed, acne scarred, microcephalic, cretinous genes will NEVER be passed on.

I do pray for your children that they turn out better than the two of you. No matter what I think of you or Patti I would never wish anything bad for your children. They do not deserve to be labeled like the two of you since they have no control over who their parents are. I just hope that Cleo can ban you and Patti from this beloved site forever!!!! and guess what this isn't Fancy talkin this is her mom.

- As for the laws in GA! Unfortunately they are laughable at best and anyone who has ever traveled through there knows that! Things are getting better by far but the animals will be the last on the list not the first! So yeh, even being under investigation by the GA Dept of Ag doesn't mean much as the laws to protect animals just aren't strict enough!
- Everyone knows that dogs can tolerate alot of neglect and abuse without ever losing their ability to love. And even in the 10' x 10' cages you claim they now reside in with 20 dogs per cage and not much exposure to love, treats, toys and cuddles, your dogs continue to love! Doesn't that make you feel like crap?

- It has become obvious that there is a fundamental difference in our world views. I, as a Darwinist and Capitalist have difficulty relating to your world view. I am going to list a few impressions I have about your views.

- Animals are equal to humans. They are not, we are superior to them. As a result they are ours to do with as we wish.
- We have a responsibility to help/protect animals. No, any sense of obligation is a personal belief. If you disagree, go help a grizzly bear catch salmon.
- Repeating a non fact will make it a fact. No, it just makes you look stupid.
- Dictionaries are eaten. No, they are read. This misconception is rampant here as evidenced by your grammar and spelling.
- God cares. He is a vengeful God and gave man dominion over the beasts. It is Jesus that stated we should love one another. God smites.
- Everyone should be allowed to reproduce. No, if you are interested in improving the Dachshund by selective breeding, why not show some similar concer for your own species.
- The A.K.C. cares. Yes, about their money. They are a dog registry, nothing more, they do not get involved in allegations of the nature you are making.
- Everyone should have to conform to your views. No, that is that dangerous thought which leads to fascism.
- Your opinion matters. Sorry, but again, no. Outside of this little mutual ego stroking you all share, no one gives a fig how you feel.
- I care about your feelings and opinions. Ha ha ha...I don't.

Second off, I asked the question about how much money it would take to buy you two out of buisness long ago and your wife replied "No amount of money, I love my dogs"

- Patti you make so many threats about taking this or that to court, this is something you may want to think twice about. I'm pretty sure that any judge or jury would lock you up and throw away the key. If it's true that all your dogs have been sold, why is it that your website is full of puppies for sale?? You didn't sell your dogs and you know it, we are not that stupid. As far as your husband, the two of you deserve each other. I do find it quite interesting that your husband finally got up enough balls to try his best to defend you and your practices. It's also become very evident that your husband is just as insensitive as you. To say that God should render any parent's child sterile is not only hurtful for some people, but downright childish!! There is one thing that gives me peace of mind, you will have to answer to someone someday, and I wish I could be there to hear what your excuse will be at that time. In the end it's you and your husband who will pay the ultimate price for your wicked ways, this is something you should think long and hard about.

- Animals are equal to humans. No, they are superior to humans. If there were no humans the planet would not be in the trouble it's in because the animals would be in perfect balance with the rest of nature as it was intended!
- We have a responsibility to help/protect animals. Only from ourselves. Again, if there were no humans there would be no need for help/protection! Hence there would be no need to help the grizzly catch a salmon!

- Repeating a non fact will make it a fact. We all know that is not true as it hasn't made anything you have said true yet!
- Dictionaries are eaten. As you well know as a somewhat educated man that is an old saying and means you have read an entire dictionary. Or at least tried to quote from as if you had! If someone says to a baby, "you're so cute I could just eat you up" does that mean they are a cannibal? No, of course not. Stop taking everything so literally!
- God cares. God is mans way of defining himself so I suppose you just defined yourself as "vengeful and having dominion of your beasts". How many dogs have "smote" in your lifetime?
- Everyone should be allowed to reproduce. No, brothers to sisters, fathers to daughters, mothers to sons, cousins to cousins...I think we do have some things in place to keep from reproducing with alot of bad genetic mutations.
- The A.K.C. cares. The AKC cares about their money but that includes caring about their reputation. And although they aren't quite as "caring" about what people like you do I believe that is soon to change.
- Everyone should have to conform to your views. No one here ever said you must conform to their views. We all may have similar views but we are not all clones of one another. All anyone asked of you and Patti was to give your animals proper care. Two people, no matter how good you may think you are, cannot possibly properly tend to 100+ dogs and puppies alone! It is a physical impossibility! Hire some freakin' help!
- Your opinion matters. Everyone's opinion matters. Even yours to someone!
- I care about your feelings and opinions. Obviously you do or you wouldn't keep coming here to voice your opinions and try to make yourself look better in the eyes of those reading these posts. A person who truly doesn't care would have departed the scene and stayed gone indefinitely. You care enough to keep coming back!

- I really don't want to argue over all the facts again, I know what is true and I also know that you all are wrong in all your alligations.
- We did not ever want to sell our dogs, but due to financial reasons we HAD to. Plain and simple.
- I will be posting prices on the website for all dogs and puppies. Right now we are still managing the dogs and will be selling them for the owner.

- I know that it would be impossible for one individual to obtain all the dogs, so we will place them in groups and will not be split up. We will start posting the details over the next few days.
- Anyone interested must go through the website, we will not do any negotiations / discussing of dogs here on the HDB.

- Ian, Ian...when are you going to drop the pretentious bs posting and just answer the questions put to you, instead of hiding behind grand language in an attempt to impress us with your linguistic acrobatics? If you read your WIFE'S postings (as we all do with baited breath, I'm sure) with a critical unbiased eye, you would perhaps relegate HER to the kid's table but I rather doubt she would be able to keep up with the conversation. Now, learned fellow, what do you say...what is your price? By the by, I hope you have your ducks in a row with the claim that you no longer own the dogs because I will be contacting the investigating authorities shortly with your statement so that they may check to see that you actually sold the dogs in good faith instead of playing the old con shell game to continue your business.

- Due to the poor grammar exhibited here I will have to request that all questions that you want answered be in the form of a question, complete with punctuation. If I failed to answer any questions asked of me, I am sorry and ask that you re-ask it so I may answer it. As for the price on the dogs, Patti will be answering that question (and all other sale questions) as soon as she is able to update the web-site.

I have looked back and seen only 4 questions directed to me. The 2 relating to the sale, Patti will answer. As for "Temporary cages for 12 hours?" The is how long they were in them, I did not take the precaution of time-lapse photographing them, so I can-not produce any evidence to support my assertions, just as you have no proof contrariwise. I guess that leaves it at your word v. mine. And as for "...impress us with you linguistic acrobatics?" I am at this point answering you questions. And why were you impressed? Doesn't everyone in your social circle have a decent vocabulary? Or, are you used to communicating in grunts and whistles and only trot out the big words on special occasions?

- Again Patti has answered the questions on pricing and will answer any more you may have.

- Your problem Ian, even though you can't see it, nor do you have the ability to recognize it, is that you are an insecure person; hence, your desperate need to appear superior. This is obvious. The one thing I am pretty sure of is that you are indeed a predator just as you proclaim to be, and a dangerous one at that.
- As a non-member, I believe that you have violated the TOS here. But only Cleo can set us straight on that...but, if you don't see your "I blame your mothers for allowing you to grow up and be such scandalous gossips, and I just pray that God has seen fit to render your children sterile so that your mouth-breathing, lazy-eyed, acne scarred, microcephalic, cretinous genes will NEVER be passed on." comment as a personal attack, you truly are a few french fries short of a happy meal.
- I'll be happy to follow up with the Department of Agriculture to see if you have transferred ownership of the dogs as you claim. Though I imagine that places Patti in violation of the "stop sale" order that they claim is still in effect. According to the Dept. of AG..." If Keystone is reported to the Department of Agriculture, Animal Protection Office, Complaint Section (Andrea Claborn) for selling puppies/dogs while under a "stop sale order", it is a violation of the imposed order. Once the complaint is lodged against the facility and an Inspector is sent to the facility/location and the facility is found to be in violation of the "stop sale order" a penalty will be assessed against the facility. The penalty will be turned over to our Legal Staff and included as part of the pending Administrative Action; its monetary value is unknown by me.

If you know that Keystone is in violation of the "stop sale order", please call the Complaint Section (Andrea Claborn) and initiate a complaint.

You may contact the section at: 404-656-4914.

- Now as I understand it, for as long as there is a "Stop Sale" order in place, there is supposed to be NO sale or movement of the dogs until the investigation and stop sale is lifted.
- The information you provide here could mean you are in violation of that stop sale.
- The one thing I am curious about is...if you have indeed sold the dogs, and are no longer legal owners, then why is there still an ongoing investigation? I am sure the Department of AG can answer that question...
- I don't believe that Cleo's posting of the video was an invitation for Patti to come and comment. She is banned, but since she was compelled to comment, and if Patti's intention was not to argue as she claims, then all that needed to be said on her part was that she is no longer the legal owner of the dogs and she is selling the business/mill.
- As for the lies and disgusting comments that you posted to Scrabble's photo...it just goes to prove, yet once again, that it is impossible for your sick brain to grasp hold of the concept of "maturity, good morals and ethics" This is what divides you from the rest of the human race. You can be well read, have a good vocabulary, you may have even been taught to be a gentleman and remove the dishes from the sink before you PEE in it.....but you lack the things that make good decent people, good decent people. And for the life of me, I don't think there is any hope for either one of you at all.

- If I lived near you guys I'd stand outside with a picket line with banners and signs of how disgusting you imbreeds are.
No one can get away with this and you certainly won't.
You have so much evidence against you about poor conditions, ignoring the law that stops you selling and so much more, I can't wait to hear when you get arrested and shut down.
I would most certainly steal all the dogs in your illegal puppy mill if I lived near you, but as it happens I live thousands of miles away. But if this was in the uk you'd be shut down and the police would confiscate ALL 'your' dogs.
Why it is taking so long is annoying me and letting you get away with murder most literally since puppies are dying on your premises! or sorry,... 'Being stolen'.

- Ugh. . . I really need to spend more time on the site. I apologize for this but I'm spending a lot of time trying to start a business. One that doesn't abuse animals, by the way.
- Anyway, I had to delete all of Ian and Patti McCarty's messages, so if you're reading this for the first time, the comments won't make much sense.
- I really don't want to get into it, but these individuals are BANNED from the site and thus should not be posting on the site at all. I try to be fair though and let them respond to accusations of mistreatment of animals (dachshunds) but look what comes of it?
- So, while I'm tempted to leave the especially irrational, abusive, and just plain psycho posts by them (as well as subtle admissions of guilt amidst the loud protestations) because I believe they're own words and deeds do far greater damage to themselves than anything any member of this site or I could do, the plain, simple fact is that I am tired of them. I'm tired of their disruptiveness here.
- So now we will have a zero tolerance policy. I'm serious about it. I'm taking stronger measures to ensure that these people cannot post. But, there will always be the possibility that something can get through. When this happens, the post will be deleted as soon as I am aware of it, regardless of content.

- I encourage all members to assist in safeguarding our community by notifying me immediately if you see a post by a known banned individual or even suspect a post might be by a banned individual.
- It's time to take the site back.
